- Determined relationship of altered cingulate cortex anatomical connectivity with comorbid major depressive disorder and substance abuse disorder in clinical patients
- Analyzed anterior cingulate cortex diffusion tensor imaging connectivity in patients with nicotine, cocaine, and alcohol addiction
- Investigated perceptions regarding e-cigarettes and e-cigarette smoking during pregnancy

Duke University, Advisor: Dr. Cynthia Kuhn, Dr. David Walker, 2015

Duke Institute for Brain Science, Department of Pharmacology and Cancer Biology

- Studied chronic ethanol administration desensitization of adenosine A1 receptors as shown through an altered response to adenosine agonists in sudden darkness locomotor activity in adult rats
